ASK FIRST DEGREE MURDER COUNT AS HAVER CONFESSES

Haver Admits That He Choked His Wife During Quarrel

New Philadelphia, O., Jan. 29.—Prosecuting Attorney James Patrick may decide today whether or not he will ask for the empanelling of a special grand jury to indict Harvey Haver, 41, Newcomerstown mail carrier, self-confessed murderer of his wife, Katherine, whose body was found on an abandoned farm five miles from that city Wednesday.

If a special grand jury is not called, Haver will remain in the Tuscarawas county jail until April, when his case will be presented to the grand jury for action.

While stories told by neighbors of constant quarrelling tend to some extent to corroborate Haver's latest self-reported confession, that he choked his wife to death during a quarrel, in which he claimed "self-defense," Patrick indicated that he would ask for a first degree murder verdict, carrying with it the death in the electric chair when the case comes to trial.

After arraignment before Justice E. N. Fair following his confession late yesterday, Haver entered a plea of not guilty to the warrant charging murder.

"I choked my wife to death," Haver said, "but I did not do it with malice aforethought, nor did I premeditate it, but did it in self-defense."

MAKING PLANS FOR PARK AT GUILFORD

State Preparing To Start Construction Work About March 1.

John L. King, president of the Columbus County Fish and Game Association, who has just returned from the state game meeting at Columbus, said he found the department of public works drawing up final plans for the beginning of the new Guilford state park south of here about March 1.

These plans when completed, are to be submitted to the attorney general for approval and it is understood that this will be done without much delay so work will not be delayed.

At Frank Grosshens, of F. L. Lippert, a delegate from the county association, was named a member of the state resolutions committee.

Weather Observer Predicts Partial Relief From Intense Cold.

THREE ARE KILLED BY N. YORK GALES

Hundred's of Homeless Are Driven to Shelter In Lodging Houses.

Columbus, Jan. 29.—The mercury dropped to 5-4 degrees below zero at 6 a. m. today, government meteorologist, W. H. Alexander announced in predicting partial relief from the intense cold by this afternoon.

"It is warming up over the entire west," Alexander said, and temperatures will begin rising slowly in Ohio by noon today. The mercury readings this afternoon should be between 12 and 16 degrees above zero.

The center of the cold area was over West Virginia this morning, the weatherman said.

Reports reaching the weather bureau here, Alexander said, indicated that Cleveland and Toledo had equally low temperatures this morning.

However, reports from some sections of the state indicated temperatures as low as 22 degrees below zero in some bottom sections.

Wind Kills Three

New York, Jan. 29.—New York quaked in near zero weather today while a howling 84 mile northeast wind blew down signs and telegraph poles swept the feeble off their feet, harried harbor craft and directly or indirectly caused the death of three persons. The number of injured was mounting each hour.

At daybreak the mercury touched the cipher, hovered there a while, and as the day broadened rose a little. The official weather forecast said that the cold would continue for a few days, probably reaching its highest depth at midnight or early tomorrow.

The dead include a 70-year-old man in a shack and two men swept from the deck of a barge which was whirled from her moorings into the open bay by the gale.

Among the more seriously injured were George Wilkey, South Orange, N. J., who dislocated his shoulder when a wind blew him off his feet; Harry Holden, who fractured his leg when blown from a ladder; and Charles Reid, who suffered several broken ribs and a smashed collar bone while working on his Orange county farm.

The icy weather drove hundreds of the homeless to shelter in cheap lodging houses. The Salvation Army's hotel on the Bowersy which sheltered nightly an average of 45 homeless men broke all records for the winter by taking in 610.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT VETO BAXTER BILL, IS BELIEF

BULLETIN

Columbus, Jan. 29.—The Baxter emergency tax relief bill, passed at the recent special session of the legislature, will become a law tomorrow without the governor's signature, Governor Donahue announced today.

The governor made no comment.

Columbus, Jan. 29.—Indications today supported belief that Gov. Donahue will permit the Baxter emergency act designed to afford immediate relief to financially distressed taxpayers throughout Ohio, to become effective as law Saturday with out his approving signature.

The 10 day period in which the governor is permitted to veto the act, passed at the recent one day special session of the state legislature, expires at midnight tonight.

Cheer Up, Even Hoover Hasn't Received European Programs

Same Weird Discord of Cat Calls, Etc., That All Fans Get Also Come In Over Herbert's Radio; However, Last Night's Reception Was Some Better.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Herbert Hoover, the radio "boss" of the nation, with all kinds of receiving apparatus, has been no more successful than the lone farm boy with the home-made crystal set, in getting results from the international radio broadcasting tests this week.

Tonight when the curtain drops on the 1926 international tests Hoover will clap on headphones and twist dials of a giant tent receiver in an effort to pick out of the ether the superlative radio thrill—"this is 2-LO, London."

The same weird discord of cat calls, barnyard squeals and zoo-like yowls that greeted 99 percent of the radio enthusiasts in this country also found their way into the Hoover household, he admitted today.

Hoover, an ardent radio enthusiast, operates a half dozen different types of receiver from a tiny crystal set to one of the most elaborate sets available. Several nights a week he tunes in on near and far distant stations to study the many problems that confront listeners in relation to federal regulation of the new entertainment utility.

Great possibilities in the development of radio are seen by Hoover in international broadcasting, although he considers the present tests purely experimental.

No member of the "government's radio 'big four,'" which directs policies, regulations and scientific investigation of ether communication, has been able to pick up a foreign station.

RURAL MAIL MEN SUFFER HARDSHIPS TO SERVE PATRONS

Only Two Carriers Plunge Thru Drifts For En- tire Round Trip.

But two rural mail delivery carriers made round trips Thursday due to snow drifts and few expected to get clear through today.

One carrier, Hiram Chandler, Route 3, suffered severely frost-bitten ears in a vain attempt to get the mail through. He stuck to his post in his buggy but the drifts were too deep for him to make the entire route. He had to have a physician give him treatment for his ears as he is still suffering today.

LeRoy Beery, Route 6, was the only regular line carrier to make an entire round trip. He said the snow was so deep he couldn't turn around and his horse finally pulled through.

Star Route to Winona got through with mail to that village.

Five rural carriers covered part of their routes and turned back.

All started out today to make a much of their routes as possible but there was still little hope of all getting through drifts on branch roads where no snow plows have been working.

Several carriers planned to drive as far as possible and carry light mail on foot the rest of the way if they could make it. One carrier phoned persons along his route to be at the mail boxes to receive mail and give him help if he needed it.

"The mail must get through if it is humanly possible, so we'll walk it if the snow isn't too deep," this carrier said.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC REGULATIONS FOR COUNTY ARE URGED

County Auto Club Invites Officials To Consider New Rules.

INVITE CLEVELAND EXPERT TO SPEAK

Directors Pledge Support To State Motorists' Bill of Rights.

At a meeting of the directors of the Columbiana County Automobile club, held in Lisbon this week a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a banquet to be held in Lisbon in the near future.

This committee will make an effort to have Commissioner of Traffic Donahue of Cleveland, speak on traffic regulations.

To this banquet will be invited chiefs of police, presidents of councils, mayors and other public officials of the county who are interested. It is hoped as a result of this meeting to have uniform regulations in the county.

The county directors pledged their support to the board of directors of the Ohio State Automobile Association in backing the motorists' "Bill of Rights" which it presented to the highway investigating committee. This committee will investigate conditions in the highway department and make recommendations to the legislature at its next session.

The points in this bill of rights are: Creation of a state highway commission with power to appoint a state highway engineer, who will be free from politics; restoration of the state half mile levy for road construction; construction of roads that save instead of waste vehicle operation; present method of determining which roads should be improved or not disturbed; more roads and widening of those in state system where traffic conditions demand; greater clarity in what constitutes the actual repair bill on Ohio roads together with more definite data as to frequency of reconstruction.

Secretary Diehl and the local directors were appointed to see about providing better signs for Salem street intersections.

The next meeting of the club, the third Monday in February, will be the annual meeting. Previous to that time there will be meetings of the members of the clubs in all localities to choose their directors. Salem is entitled to two.

REACH SHORE OVER BROKEN ICE FIELD

Three of Men Caught Off Muskegon, Exhausted, Reach Shore.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 29.—Dragging themselves with difficulty over a broken ice field, three of the fishermen caught off Muskegon reached shore early today.

They are: Theodore Graham Jr., Chris Jensen and Steve Mardeux.

Two airplanes will leave Selfridge field this morning in an attempt to drop food and fuel to the five not yet rescued. The fishing lugs, Helen N. and The Indian, were still in danger of being crushed by ice.

Despairing of rescue by coast guard crews the trio decided to take the desperate chance of making their own way to land more than a mile away.

Crawling over the jagged ice or leaning across shallow pools of water at three reached safety in a stage of utter exhaustion.

Graham plunged into the house of a farmer and collapsed, worn and chilled.

Jensen next reached safety and medical aid was soon given him. Mardeux followed. All three called for food, the scant supply of the fishing fleet having been exhausted.

With rising temperature and calm weather expected, release of the others held prisoner by the ice may be effected today.

It was officially reported by District U. S. Weather Observer Lawrence H. Copeland, at Millport, that Thursday night was the coldest experienced in Columbiana county in nearly a decade.

At 6 o'clock this morning 18 below was officially registered by Observer Copeland. At 8 o'clock it was 16 below and at 9 o'clock it was 5 below.

"Unless there is a decided change in the temperature during the day, severe cold weather will again prevail during Friday night," Observer Copeland said today.

The last fall of snow totaled seven inches, according to the Millport station records.

JURORS DECIDING KIRBY'S FATE ARE STILL DEADLOCKED

Judge Charges Jury Must Decide Upon Kirby's Guilty Intent

Cleveland, Jan. 29.—The jury deciding the fate of Josiah Kirby, controller of the destinies of the Cleveland Discount Co., from its organization until its collapse and receiver ship in 1923, on trial in federal court on charges of using the mails to defraud, was still deadlocked at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when the members filed into the court and asked Judge John M. Kilgus, presiding, for further instructions on the question of intent into the alleged crime.

After receiving the judge's instructions the jurors were taken to lunch and will resume deliberations at 2 o'clock.

While no reliable information was forthcoming, rumors were in circulation in the corridors of the federal building that the jury was about evenly split on the question of guilt or innocence.

Judge Kilgus in his three hour charge to the jury said that many of the legal facts had been proven, but that the jury must decide whether or not Kirby had guilty intent.

The defense took exceptions to many of the charges.

Conviction on all of the 14 counts in the indictment would carry with it a maximum penitentiary sentence of 70 years.

COLDEST NIGHT OF WINTER RECORDED; RELIEF FORECAST

City Thermometers Record 14 Below; Fires Cause Little Damage.

BIG DRIFTS STILL HOLD UP TRAFFIC

Trucks and Autos Stalled As County Snow Plows Buck Way Through

Salem suffered through another bitter cold night Thursday night. Records of 14 degrees below zero in 1911 was the coldest night of the winter so far.

These reports came from various parts of the city, and the 14 degree figure is regarded as the lowest estimate. Thermometers in the business district registered 10 below at 7 a. m.

In the last 20 hours, up to noon today, there were four fire calls, but fortunately none was a serious blaze.

At 3:30 p. m. Thursday firemen were called to the Salem Furniture Co., off Jennings ave. near West Eighth st., where the second floor near the chimney had caught fire.

The blaze was extinguished with chemicals. Damage is estimated at about $25.

Two Calls This Morning

At 7:30 a. m. Thursday a passerby noticed smoke on the roof of a home at McKinley and Woodland aves. and turned in an alarm. Wind had blown smoke from a chimney near the roof and made it seem as though the roof was afire.

Two fire calls this morning sent firemen out into the terrible cold. At 3:30 Franklin ave. at 8:50 a. m. firemen put out a blaze in a touring car in the garage at the Homer Halverstad home. Little damage was done.

Steam escaping from the hot water tank at the Hannah Mullins Nurses home at Salem City Hospital came out under the roof of the home and a call was turned in as a precautionary measure. This call was at 10:30 a. m.

Many roads around Salem are still wholly or partially blocked by snow drifts today. County and state snow plows worked all day Thursday trying to buck the drifts.

Roads Still Blocked

The Canfield rd. was blocked with huge drifts, and it was late Thursday before a lane could be cut through for traffic. A motorist counted 11 trucks and machines stalled in the snow yesterday afternoon on this road, including provision and bread trucks which had started out Thursday morning for Salem.

Due to this blizzard, restaurants and stores here did not get their full supplies of provisions and bread. One bread truck was so deep in a drift only the upper part was visible.

Not a bus ran out of Salem Thursday, and only partial service on some lines was started today. The Warren bus failed to get through from that city yesterday but expected to get through some way Friday.

The big Canton Youngstown busses remained in a garage at Youngstown waiting for the roads to be cleared. These busses may get started late today.

Advised Not to Use Roads

Trains and interurbans maintained a fairly even schedule with work crews and snow plows clearing tracks.

The Salem-Lisbon rd. was closed to traffic all Friday, but County Surveyor L. C. Kirk expected traffic to be resumed during the evening. However, he did not advise motorists to venture over the roads before Saturday.

The West Point Wellsville rd. is expected to be opened by 6 p. m. Friday. On both of these highways drifts were so deep that snow plows could not get through, it being necessary to shovel the snow from the roads.

County trucks were at work on the Goshen rd. all day Friday. The Lincoln Highway between East Liverpool and Bayard is open as is the Cox Highway between Westville and East Palestine. The Leetonia-Lisbon rd. is open, but snow continues to drift after a traffic way has been cleared.

MITCHELL'S ARMY CAREER IS ENDED

Secretary of War Accepts Resignation of Fly- ing Colonel

Washington, Jan. 29.—Col. William Mitchell's 25-year career in the army ended today.

Secretary of War Davis accepted the flying colonel's resignation, effective February 1.

Announcement of acceptance of the resignation, rendered by Mitchell because his five years' suspension from the army was upheld by President Coolidge, was curt and brief as a laconic as was the resignation itself.

Davis merely announced that Mitchell's services would be terminated on February 1, and that the adjutant general of the army had been notified of this effect.

THE WORLD COURT

Our adherence to the World Court has been so weighed down with reservations that it will not necessarily amount to very much, except for the moral effect of even a nominal abandonment of the isolation policy. As a means of gaining votes for the proposal of or allaying the opposition of groups of voters, the plan has been greatly modified from that advocated by Presidents Harding and Coolidge. Our formal alliance with the other nations in this effort to promote peace and justice is so hedged about with restrictions and safeguards that it is hard to see why the veriest blitherer should fear entangling alliances from this belated and uncertain step.

Under Senator Swanson's compromise reservation the United States senate's consent, by a two-thirds vote is required before a dispute involving the United States may be referred to the court. That is to say, the senate is to keep as firm a hand as ever on our foreign relations. In actual practice, the United States will not be a member of the court unless two-thirds of the senators consent. Moreover, it is now provided that the court shall render no advisory opinion touching any question in which the United States has or claims an interest except with the consent of the United States to the rendering of such opinion. This gives the United States power to block the court's adjudication of almost any imaginable question, seemingly falling within its jurisdiction since this country always would have or could claim an interest. It is not inconceivable that one or more of the 48 states already represented in the court may object to the conferring of so broad a power upon the new member and thus end our adherence before it is really begun. The senate resolution stipulates that the United States' signature to the court protocol and statute shall not be affixed until the 48 signatories have accepted our reservations.

The importance of the senate's ratification of the World Court proposal thus severely modified, bids fair for a long time at least, to be in its moral rather than its practical effect. It is at least a formal, if hesitant, acknowledgment of our duties and responsibilities in the world at large, duties and responsibilities which, as was amply proved at the time of the World war, we cannot escape in an emergency whether they are formally acknowledged or not. Our adherence to the World Court, cautious and precarious as it may be, probably will make for greater confidence in the general outlook abroad and for better feeling toward America there, and the frame of mind is a matter of great moment and influence.

THE MITCHELL SENTENCE

President Coolidge has tempered Col. William Mitchell's sentence with a clemency which precedents make appropriate, following the very sensible recommendations of the secretary of war. The colonel was suspended from duty for five years, his war record serving to mitigate his post-war offenses. It is not customary or desirable to leave a suspended officer without means of support. The president therefore approved Mr. Davis's suggestion to allow in this case at least half pay and rent and subsistence allowances.

Such consideration is for the good of the service and in no way palliates Col. Mitchell's conduct. He violated the articles of war, making charges against his superiors which were not only an affront to discipline but were also without any foundation. He failed utterly to sustain them before the court martial. They were the outcroppings of propaganda fervor and personal ill-feeling. They lacked even the background of first-hand or expert knowledge of the conditions complained of.

The president emphasizes the single issue raised by the sentence. May an army officer free himself whenever he pleases from the obligation to show respect for his superiors? It is an old and inflexible military tradition that he may not. Unless professional conduct conforms to that tradition discipline in an army breaks down. The army ceases to be an army and becomes an agency of disorder.

The public passed on the Mitchell case as well as the court-martial. The two judgments agreed. The best thing to do now is to let this unpleasant incident fade out.

Q. Does the blood of insects circulate in the same way as that of a human being? J. H.

A. The blood of an insect does not circulate through a system of closed blood tubes as in man, but instead it more or less completely fills that part of the body cavity which is not filled with other organs. Oxygen is thus brought in contact with the blood by means of the tracheae. Insects have the most powerful muscles of any animals of their size. Relatively, an enormous amount of energy is released during the jumping or flying of a grasshopper. The tracheae pass directly into the muscles and other tissues. Here oxygen is passed into the tissues, and oxidation takes place when work is done.

A. The court at first had six members. It has never had more than 10 and at present has nine.

Q. What is the origin of the term "plus fours" for knickers? R. U.

A. The Haberdasher says that golfers found regular knickerbockers a bit uncomfortable for golfing. Designers of men's apparel therefore drafted a pattern in which four inches were added to the inside seam of each leg of knickerbockers which had a standard length of 20 inches. This provided for the drop of the "plus fours."

Q. What movement is there to the needle of the compass at the North Pole? What direction does it point? G. H. C.

A. The Department of Research in Terrestrial Magnetism of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, says in the absence of any observational data at the true North Pole, it is not possible to state to what movement or change in direction, a compass needle at the true North Pole would Popular screen lovers show winning ways in these scenes from new productions. The subject of John Barrymore's attentions is Dolores Costello; of Adolphe Menjou, Florence Vidor, and of Laurence Olivier, Gloria Swanson. The pictures in which these scenes appear are, respectively, "The Sea Beast," "The Grand Duchess and the Waiter," and "The Untamed Lady."

New York, Jan. 29.—Elihu Root, addressing a meeting of the newly formed department of political education of the National Civic Federation, said the bloc system of government had failed wherever tried and criticized other holders who failed to stand by the principles of the party that elected them.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—The cold wave which held the northwest securely in its grip yesterday and dipped down into middle western states was passing today.

Snow flurries were forecast to follow in some sections, as the cold wave, which started on Canadian plains, moved eastward.

Rail communication generally was reported normal today.

Census Not Popular Among Many Peoples

Superstition among natives in the Kenya colony, in Africa, has caused census takers no end of trouble. The natives believe it is unlucky to count themselves or their wives when the official enumeration is taken.

In other countries census taking has sometimes presented similar difficulties, says The Times. The first Chinese census showed a total population of 28,000,000. It was taken to serve as a basis for the imposition of a poll tax. Several years later another census was taken to organize relief during a famine. The population had grown to 105,000,000.

Infinite trouble is taken in the preparation of the Indian census, but one story told by a British administrator shows there also the way of the census taker is difficult. On one occasion he had to point out to a native enumerator some discrepancy in his figures. "But surely," protested the enumerator, "your honor can supply naughts at discretion?"

South Carolinian Was First American Doctor

The first native of English-speaking America to receive the degree of Doctor of Medicine was William Bull, who died in London, England, about 134 years ago.

He was born in South Carolina in 1710, and in his early manhood went to Europe to study medicine, receiving his M. D. degree at Leyden. He practiced his profession with considerable success in his native colony, and in 1764 became lieutenant governor of South Carolina, a position he retained until the Revolution. As Doctor Bull remained a loyalist, he, in 1782, accompanied the British troops to England after their defeat by the Continental army under General Washington.

Doctor Bull resided in England during the remainder of his life.

Poets to Royalty

The office of the English poet laureate is in the gift of the sovereign of England, said to have been created during the reign of Edward IV (1461-1483). The appellation is derived from a custom of the English universities which continued until 1512, of presenting a laurel leaf to graduates in rhetoric and versification—the "king's laureate" being a graduated rhetorician in the service of the king. It was formerly the duty of the poet laureate to write an ode on the birthday of the king, but this custom has been discontinued since the reign of George III.

The first poet laureate in the modern sense was Edmund Spenser, who was granted a pension of £50 by Queen Elizabeth I in 1591. Ben Jonson was the first to receive the office by formal letters patent.—Kansas City Star.

Historic London Church

The Church of St. Michael, one of Wren's churches, which has just been reopened after extensive renovations is one of the most historic churches in London. It is built on the site of that erected by Dick Whittington, and in which he was buried, but the original was so entirely wiped out in the great fire that no trace of Sir Richard Whittington's grave now remains. The renovation scheme included the painting of the walls and ceiling, and the moving of the heavy altar railing forward to form a choir screen. The representations of Moses and Aaron found in all Wren's churches are in this case exquisite statues which formerly stood on pedestals beside the altar. They have now been accommodated in niches in the walls some few feet above their original location.

Christian Martyrs

The dates of the most violent Christian persecutions under Roman emperors were as follows: Nero, 64-68; Domitian, 95; Trajan, 100; Marcus Aurelius, 160-177; Septimius Severus, 193-204; Maximinus, 235-238; Gordian, 250-252; Valerian, 258-260; Diocletian, 303-313 (the era of the martyrs). The reason for Christian persecution according to Roman historians, was not on account of their religious beliefs so much as by the Christian refusal to conform to the state religion and national law. Religion was an integral part of Roman law.

Polar Explanation

Early efforts in polar exploration were largely for commercial interests. During the Twentieth century the renewal of exploration in the Arctic and Antarctic regions has been due largely to the spirit of scientific research, but also for geographic achievement. Peary, at the North pole, made a great number of observations which are very valuable in the study of geography, physiography, meteorology and oceanography.

South American Honored

The statue of Gen. Jose de San Martin in Judiciary park is the first statue of a South American to be erected in Washington. It is a replica of one in Buenos Aires and was thought a fitting gift to this country, since San Martin was a patriot to whom many South Americans accord the reverence that people in this country pay to the memory of George Washington.

New York, Jan. 29.—The radio world committee which has been supervising the international broadcasting stations, announced today that European radio program last night had attained the most success of any experiment since Sunday. The baby was born while the others home went up in flames.

NYE WANTS PROBE OF BIG INDUSTRIES

New Senator Says Working Conditions and Wages Should Be Probed

Washington, Jan. 29.—Gerald P. Nye, the youthful senator from North Dakota, who was seated a few weeks ago after a stiff fight, crashed into the limelight today by introducing a resolution calling for a sweeping investigation into wages and working conditions in the cotton, woolen, steel and aluminum industries.

His resolution will be backed by other insurgents in the senate and by many of the Democrats.

The proposed inquiry into this group of highly protected industries would be undertaken primarily to determine whether their workers are benefiting from the high tariff protection accorded by congress or whether the tariff is used only to swell the profits of manufacturers. In a wider sense, the investigation would be used as a basis either for launching a new tariff war or for a campaign to provide the same type of government economic relief for western agriculture.

The resolution undoubtedly will meet with stiff opposition from administration quarters, first because it is aimed at the Republican tariff and second, because some of the administration's biggest figures have a peculiar interest in these industries.

The services were attended by veterans of the Eighth Ohio Volunteers (the president's own) who saw service in the Spanish American war.

GASOLINE FUND CAN'T BE SPENT FOR EQUIPMENT

Columbus, Jan. 29.—Attorney General Crabbe today ruled that a municipality cannot legally buy street repair equipment, tools and machinery with any portion of the gasoline tax fund. A similar opinion was announced recently by the attorney general at meeting county officials.

The lunch room fund, provided by state law, shall be considered as a part of the general school funds to be deposited in the usual depositories and paid out upon warrants properly signed by the president and clerk of the board of education, Crabbe also ruled.

Both opinions were addressed to officials of the state bureau of public accounting and inspection.

NO AUDIENCE TO APPLAUD AS FERN
SINGS THE BLUES

Oh, Why Did I Fall For His Line? Wails Petite Stage Star

Columbus, Jan. 29.—Petite Fern Rogers, who sang her way into stardom in more than a score of musical comedies today was "singing the blues."

No audience was there to applaud her—except that brought her form into relief, the scene was her own room in the New House. She was alone.

Her husband, of two weeks, L. J. Bowman, will be her husband no more, Fern repeated again and again.

"Oh, why did I fall for his line?" she wailed, "I believe his story of great wealth, his dream of happy days with me, more rehearsals; no more work, I was completely fooled."

The husband—Fern's newest—spent last night in city jail following his arrest for failure to pay a hotel bill of $192. He was arraigned in court this morning and held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond, which he had failed to furnish late in the morning.

"I'll give him not another dime," Fern wailed. "I've paid all expenses since we were married. Now he can sing on his own."

Bowman was a rubber in a local bath house and met Fern during a theatrical engagement here. They were married two days later.

According to the musical comedy star, Bowman claimed to be a prominent German physician and scientist and a man of considerable means.

She had not decided on her plans for the future, but will secure a divorce and then probably will go back to the stage she deserted for a husband.

JOHNSON REFUSES TO ATTEND LEAGUE JUBILEE BANQUET

Rumblings of Warfare Over Landis Heard Because Ban Declines.

By DAVID J. WALSH
New York, Jan. 29.—Faint rumblings of the internal warfare that almost inevitably will be waged when Judge Landis' contract comes up for renewal this year were recorded on the sport symposium today coincident with the information that Judge Johnson had declined an invitation to sit in at the National League's golden jubilee banquet.

The affair is to be held in this city on Tuesday and Johnson said he would be unable to be present, although he will be here for the baseball winter dinner two nights in advance of the National League date.

Johnson, an irreconcilable anti-landis man, is said to have sworn an eternal vendetta with the rival league after the league swung its support to the judge when Ban attempted to force another show down of power during the 1924 world series. Johnson's league to chide him publicly but now he has some of his magnates lined up behind him again and the next fight may be to a finish.

Only the prospect of future bitterness could prompt Johnson to send his regrets to a function of this kind. He knows that friendships may cease abruptly, if Landis is elected, and he is not one to soften a blow by clothing it in assumed good will.

However, it seemed more than possible today that Johnson would reconsider his determination to absent himself from the dinner in view of the fact that many of his magnates will be there and might take umbrage at his implied slight to the rival league. If Johnson means to fight Landis' re-election he must keep his own organization lined up or he will find himself holding the empty bag as per his custom of recent years.

Johnson's main hope of success does not rest with either league, however, according to those in his counsel, all he wishes to do is to make a brave enough showing so that Landis, who is not without his sensitive side, will pick up his balloons and play elsewhere.

LUCKY DOGS LOSE TO LISBON 47-30

Clerks Nose Out Franklin Furnitures By Single Point, 21-20.

The Salem Lucky Dogs continued their losing streak at the Memorial building Thursday night when they fell before the Lisbon Scholastics 47 to 30.

On floor work and passing the Dogs shone brilliantly, but after retreating the ball down near the basket, failed to score frequently enough.

Two Salem teams won the preliminaries. The Clerks took a close game from the Columbian Franklin Furnitures, 21 to 20, and the Emanuel Lutherans trounced the Alliance Lutherans, 28 to 18.

Next Wednesday the Dogs will play the Akron Cycles here. That is the five on which "Red" Blair, former Ohio State star, is the leading forward.

Judge Blames Easy Parents For Girls' Vain Film Ambitions

San Francisco Jan. 29.—Is Hollywood all one of the reasons why girls leave home?

If so, what happens to those who go there and fail to make the grade? Are they drawn down into the slime of life?

These questions were asked of Dr. Miriam Van Waters, referee of the juvenile court of Los Angeles, who has just visited San Francisco.

And Dr. Waters ought to know. She is an authority on the youth of the present generation.

"We get a great many girls in the Los Angeles juvenile court who have tried to break into the movies," Dr. Waters said. "And, of course, we do not get all the girls who become delinquents, or unsettled, wayward, incapable of holding down a job, emotionally unstable as a result of their experience of trying to land in the movies."

"We only get those who have been in a smashup of some sort. An automobile accident, a drinking party with police interference. Some times a girl who meets other trouble."

"Thousands of these girls come to Hollywood every year hoping to re-work. The big producers are said to be doing their best to discourage girls without funds or beauty or brains, but the endless stream of movie-infatuated girls flows on just the same."

"It is a wonder, when we think of all the pressure upon their vanity, their shallow natures, their lack of sophistication."

"Many of them have parents just as foolish as they are. These girls are by no means all runaway girls. Many of them come with the full consent of their mothers, who dream the foolish dream of sudden wealth for some country girl of no real beauty, intelligence or influence."

The hospitals of the United States are occupied daily by 800,000 patients.

St. Louis Is "Baseball Crazy" Over Possibility Of Pennant

New York, Jan. 29.—Is St. Louis turn to harbor a pennant-winning ball club for the first time since the competitive dark ages? The staid, old river town seems to have gone fairly off its civic nut in considering the matter by way of mid-winter diversion.

"What is needed to bring a major league pennant to St. Louis?" is the key-question of a symposium being conducted by one of the leading newspapers. The answers from fans have been many, varied and not without some constructive value.

The inspiration for all the agitation has been furnished by the fact that during the last ten years quite a few clubs have achieved championships for the first time. The Phillies under Pat Moran in 1915 were one of the first to upset precedent. Then the Cincinnati Reds of 1919 came through after fifty years of failure. Now they have the present champions in Washington as a notable example.

St. Louis hasn't had a pennant winner since 1888 when the old Browns finished their string of titles and the citizens think something should be done about it. They have even gone to far as to play the "hunch" that the enlargement of the ball park means something, it being the general idea that pennants follow in the wake of such improvements.

OFFERS DEFENSE FOR WASHINGTON

Rupert Hughes Is Attacked By Bolton, Eminent Historian.

New York, Jan. 29.—"As a historian Rupert Hughes is one of the nation's best fiction writers."

This is the answer of Reginald P. Bolton, eminent historian, engineer, and authority on Colonial days, to the assertions Hughes made in Washington that George Washington was "profane, irreligious, a flirt and a rum maker, and that he never favored a fight for independence."

"George Washington was always attached to the church," said Mr. Bolton. "Of course, mere church observance does not tell anything about a man's religious principles. If Washington didn't go to church regularly, perhaps it was because he was too busy with the affairs of his country, but history proves that his underlying principles were those of a religious man."

"Proof of this is especially conspicuous in his correspondence and letters written by others."

Man of Self-Control

In taking up the novelist's declarations that Washington was profane, Mr. Bolton said: "George Washington was a monument of self-control. Profanity would have been justified in those hard times, but Washington was not a profane man, although history shows him as a man who occasionally swore. He simply talked to his soldiers in their own language, and minced no words with them."

As far as Washington being a pleasure-loving man:

"It is true that the first president enjoyed a good meal, but he was always in physical trim, and he never ate or drank to excess."

"Ministers drank at that time, even as some of them do now, and I find no place in history where he ever was accused of heavy drinking."

"Whiskey was only gotten in those days by distilling it yourself, and it was needed for medicinal purposes as well as for occasional friendly drinking."

Vested With Power

"Washington once received a letter from a committee of congress transmitting him resolutions of that body, investing him with full mili-

Most of the boys appear to string along with the Cardinals as a better bet than the Browns. Those of this persuasion profess to believe that a full season of Hornsby's leadership plus the beneficial results expected to follow Bill Killefer's handling of the pitchers will bring success where everything else has failed.

Some of the self-appointed critics declare that the management of the Browns should be taken out of the hands of George Sisler. In this way, they claim the Browns will get a better manager and better ball player at one and the same time. Others, however, seem to think that the player-manager is a sound institution and point with pride or something, to Stanley Harris, Eddie Collins, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Dave Bancroft and Hornsby himself.

One man attacks Jacobson and Robertson, of the Browns, as lacking championship class and declares that they should be replaced. Another declares any attempt to trade McManus, Williams and Jacobson be paid enough money to make them satisfied with their lot.

Another suggestion voiced was to "permit men paid $25,000 a season to earn their salaries as managers unhindered."

tary powers quite dictatorial. Part of it follows:

"Happy it is for the country that the general of our forces can be entrusted with the most unobscured power, and neither personal security, liberty nor property be in the least degree endangered thereby."

"Washington's acknowledgement of this letter was characteristic: 'I find congress has done me the honor to entrust me with the powers in my military capacity of the highest nature. I shall constantly bear in mind that as the sword was the last resort for the preservation of our liberties, so it ought to be the first thing laid aside when those liberties are firmly established.'"

"It seems to me that that definitely settles the charge that George Washington was not interested in the fight for independence."

SALEM TEAMS OFF TO MEET LISBON

High Outfits Face Plenty Of Trouble On Lisbon Floor Tonight.

Just a little uncertain as to how things will turn out, Salem High's Boys and Girls cage teams left late this afternoon for Lisbon for the first games of the season with the Blue and White on Lisbon's home floor.

Both coaches, Wilbur Springer and Loretha Potter, were admittedly skeptical today over the games. Both have cautioned their teams that the slightest breath of over-confidence may thwart hopes for a double victory, and both mentors point to the victories the Blue have been piling up this year.

Word from Lisbon indicates both Blue outfits are fit to be tied. The Lisbon Girls lost to Palestine last week simply because they were too sure of winning. The Blue sextet is counting on obtaining revenge at the expense of the Red and Black, so Captain Mary Ellen Smith's girls have their work cut out.

Despite two victories by East Liverpool's Boys over Lisbon, the hope has it that Salem will see a wonderful five in action here, one capable of winning it Salem makes the slightest slip.

Saturday night fans will see two younger battles here when East Palestine will be entertained at the Salem High gym. Coach Ward, a former Brown star himself, has two remarkable teams this year, and Palestine is quite enthusiastic over them.

Palestine scouts, and in some instances the entire teams, have seen every game Salem has played so far this year, and those little mysterious things that help win games have been closely observed.

The first game Saturday starts at 7:30 p. m.

PRINCE TREATS INJURY LIGHTLY: WILL RIDE AGAIN

London, Jan. 29.—The Prince of Wales, who suffered a fractured collar bone in a fall from a horse indicated today after a comfortable night spent at York house that he had no intention of abandoning his and fast riding.

The condition of the prince was pronounced satisfactory this morning by attending physicians who said that his highness would probably wear an empty sleeve for some time.

Express remarked, "It is properly suggested that the prince, who in the ordinary course of events will one day be summoned to the throne, should safeguard his powers, physical as well as intellectual. If he were permanently crippled in a hunting accident it would be an unpardonable as well as a national disaster."

COLLEEN A DANCER

The West of the Old Gold Rush days is the background for Colleen Moore's new First National picture "The Desert Flower." The star appears as the step-daughter of a railroad section boss. The role is said to be a startling departure from the type of film characterizations in which Miss Moore generally is seen. The picture is scheduled for showing at the State tonight and Saturday. Colleen has the role of a little girl in a desert camp of a railroad construction gang, who escapes from the persecutions of a stepfather to make her own way in the world and provide for her baby sister.

Finding the only avenue open to her the rough environment of a mining camp dance hall, she yet thwarts poverty and in the end wins the love of the prodigal whom she had inspired.

"Desert Flower" is foremost in Miss Moore's support in "The Desert Flower," which is released through First National.

MOUNTAIN FOLKS

"Thunder Mountain," the William Fox production now at the Grand is a highly romantic and tenuous dramatic story of the crude people of the Blue Ridge Mountains, filmed in the midst of gorgeous natural surroundings under the able direction of Victor Schertzinger.

Leslie Fenton is Sam Martin, the mountain boy whose ambitions to educate his people are finally realized, and who unwillingly falls in love with Judge Ballamy as Azalea, a circus girl.

Alec Francis appears as the old circuit rider, of whom all of the ignorant folk on Thunder Mountain stand in awe—even while some few of them love the old man.

Zasu Pitts is Mandy an illiterate mountain girl, Emily Fitzroy is the general "Ma" MacBrieny, with whom little Azalea lives after her advent among the mountaineers, and Dan Mason is "Pa" MacBrieny who does not call his house his own.

BIGGEST LINERS ARE DAMAGED BY 70 FOOT WAVES

New York, Jan. 29.—A barren heaving sea hid the fate of the Brit the freighter Antinol today with the United States liner President Roosevelt, hurtling on toward Cherbourg with the rescued crew of the Antinol aboard.

Whether the Antinol has been pulled down or is still tossing behind the mountainous waves has not been ascertained, although the obvious conclusion drawn by the exposure-weakened crew is that the freighter sank soon after they were taken from the hull.

"We have a 50 degree list," was the last message the desperate men signalled to the Roosevelt before they were rescued. The water-logged cargo of wheat was tugging the vessel toward the bottom.

From the crews of other ships limping into port came stories today of the worst of all storms at sea. Capt. Sir James Charles of the Zequitana, which docked yesterday, smashing her pier in doing so, said he had never seen the wave. Eicher told that the skipper of the Leviathan estimated them to be 70 feet high. Sir James replied:

"Well, they don't come any higher than they did this time."

The Great Smith Family

The great family of Smiths bear a name which is not only the commonest but the oldest in the world. Professor Mahaffy, when deciphering the "Celtic" paper, came upon one bearing the name of Smith, unmistakably written. "We have never," he says, "found anything like it before, and it is surely worth telling the many distinguished bearers of the name that there was a man known as Smith in the twelfth year of the third Ptolemy, 27 years B. C., and that he was occupied in brewing and selling beer!"

WOOSTER COMPANY SUBMITS LOW BID FOR BENTON ROAD

Faxon's Macadam Bid Low
But Concrete Probably Will Be Used.

Contractors from all parts of Ohio are interested in the road construction program of this year, and as a result many bids are being received daily. The bid for the Benton road, submitted by the Wooster company, is the lowest received to date.

The county commissioners are interested in the bid, and it is probable that the concrete will be used for the road.

The county commissioners Thursday afternoon their purpose to open bids at 1 o'clock Monday, Feb. 15, for the grading and drainage structure of that section of the East Liverpool-Yorktown road in St. Clair township, extending from the Y & O. substation north of the Y & O. substation through Canons Mills and westward to the corner of the Lincoln Highway at Apples Corner. A section of this road from Apples Corner east to Canons Mills has been graded, but from Canons Mills south to the substation grading remains to be done.

Benton Road Bids
This job has been estimated to cost $64,447.15 and has to do with three divisional sections of this new inter-county highway. The contract for the surfacing of this road will be awarded probably after the grading and drainage structures have been completed.

The Holmes Construction Co. of Wooster was the low bidder for the concrete surfacing of the 3.9 miles of the Cleveland-East Liverpool road in Mahoning county. It has been announced by the State Highway department, according to an official report just received by County Surveyor Kirk, that his bid for concrete was $115,291.67.

James D. Paxson of Salem entered a bid of $119,136.67 for concrete on this job but the Salem firm was low on a macadam surface. Its bid for this type of construction being $116,667.02.

Since the bid for concrete was the lowest, it is taken to mean that the state will eventually award the job to the Wooster firm. The Cleveland-East Liverpool road, leading north from Salem and it is the purpose of the State Highway department and the county commissioners to improve the short stretch of this road in this county this year.

Two other road jobs are to be awarded by the county commissioners Feb. 8, this being a section of the East Rochester-North Georgetown road in Knox township, and also the Georgetown-Valley road, also in Knox township.

NAME OF MELLON IS PRINTED MOST

Secretary of Treasury Has Sixty Big Scrapbooks
With Clippings.

Washington, Jan. 29.—From the standpoint of news value and consequently public interest, the name of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and one of the world's most wealthy men, exceeds that of any other national figure, barring possibly the president.

This conclusion may be drawn from information obtained by the International News Service, showing that since March, 1921, when Mellon assumed charge of the nation's finances, his name has appeared in at least 25,000 newspaper and magazine articles. Although Mellon undoubtedly is the most modest and retiring official in Washington, his "scrap book," compiled at the treasury, contains probably 10,000 clippings. In this collection, which already fills over sixty volumes of 100 pages each, are fifty news stories, feature articles and editorials, quoting from or referring to the secretary.

Selected References
Compilers of the book say it contains about one-third of the articles printed in American journals regarding Secretary Mellon's public work. The clippings are collected from various sources, occasionally a story being selected by Mellon himself from the scrapbook, which in later years may be the basis for an important chapter in the history of America's post-war reconstruction period.

Not every page of the scrap book is flattered to Mellon. Many clippings of editorials condemning the secretary for his alleged connection with the Aluminum Company of America and its relationship to taxes of that corporation are scattered through the scrap book.

Other papers have taken sides with Senator Cappers, of Michigan, in the attacks he launched against Mellon almost immediately after he became a member of the senate.

Vicious Criticisms
But probably the most vicious criticism came from a newspaper in the middle western farm belt. It was printed soon after the oil scandals rocked the capital. Under the caption, "Mellon Is Next," this editorial said: "Gradually the axe is approaching the neck of Andrew W. Mellon. He can see the block and smell the blood where fell the illustrious heads of Newberry, Fall, Denby, Daugherty and William J. Burns."

However, quoting from this editorial, an eastern newspaper remarked that the axe, if there was one, never fell, and that Mellon has remained to take a most important part in the country's reconstruction.

CARMI THOMPSON WILL ENTER RACE

Cleveland Man Will Become Candidate To Oppose Gov. Donahey.

Cleveland, Jan. 28. — Carmi A. Thompson will be a candidate for the Republican governorship nomination at the August primaries. Formal announcement, however, in the interests of political expediency, must await several months yet.

Information of Thompson's definite decision with respect to the governorship is expected to lay at rest frequent reports he will not make the race again. Thompson was defeated in 1922 by Vic Donahey. He lost by only 18,948 votes. The vote was Donahey 821,948; Thompson 803,000.

To secure the Republican nomination Thompson must beat a wide field of potential candidates, if reports flying about in state political pastures are accepted at face value, which they shouldn't be. When all of the self-bellows smoke has blown away and the fight starts in earnest, it will be found that Thompson's chief opposition for the nomination probably will be either Charles L. Knight, former Akron congressman, or Thad Brown, secretary of state, in about that order.

former governor and thrice mayor of Cleveland, was the Republican nominee. Donahey trounced Davis badly, piling up a plurality of 288,129 over him. Davis, however, did carry his home county by 35,460. While Davis was losing the state Coolidge, the Republican standard bearer, was carrying it by about 700,000.

At the 1920 election, when Harry Davis was elected governor over Donahey he carried the state by approximately 200,000 votes, although losing in his home county by 6263 votes.

Davis After Crosser Davis is now expected to be a candidate for the Republican congressional nomination in the 21st district, in an attempt to defeat Robert Crosser, present Democratic congressman. It is likely, however, that Davis may have some opposition in that district, inasmuch as Harry C. Gahn, former congressman and one time president on city council, would like to go back to Washington.

In both runs for the governorship, Davis had the benefit of Republican presidential strength on the tickets. Thompson had no such strength. He was running in an "off" presidential year. Nor will he have it in 1926 if he finally obtains the nomination.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Stuffed Spinach—Cook two pounds spinach until tender. Drain. Chop fine, add salt, pepper and butter to taste. Put one-half of the greens on a greased baking dish and flatten with a spoon to form a layer. Cover with a layer of stuffing about one inch deep. Then another layer of spinach to cover the stuffing. Place three slices bacon on top. Bake in moderate oven for 20 minutes.

Stuffing—One cup dry bread crumbs, one-half cup cold ham, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon onion, one tablespoon horseradish, tomato to moisten, salt and pepper.

Whole Wheat Cereal—Take wheat bread that is stale and put in oven until very crisp. When crisp take out and roll with rolling pin. Serve crumbs with sugar and milk.

Peasant Girl with Veil—Crumble bits of Graham or rye bread to make two cups fine crumbs. Add a little sugar to the crumbs and heat them in a slow oven until they are very dry. Cool and mix with one cup of any kind of jam, preferably a tart jam like apricot or plum. Mold, chill and serve with whipped cream.

Health Bread—One cup seedless raisins, one teaspoon soda, one cup sour milk, one-half cup cornmeal, one cup Graham flour, three-quarters cup granulated sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup white flour. Cover the raisins with water, bring to boil, then drain. Dissolve soda in milk and add to well-mixed dry ingredients. Stir in the raisins. Half fill greased one-pound baking-powder tins, and bake with lids on for about one hour in a moderate oven (350 to 400 degrees F.).

SUGGESTION

For decorating curtains stencil work is more quickly accomplished than needlework. The equipment needed consists of one or more short, stiff brushes, cut square, tubes of oil paint

Make Your Clothes Last Longer

This can be accomplished by removing the spots and stains as soon as they appear.

Hot water takes out fruit stains, but if you use it on milk or egg stain it "drives it in" and makes it worse. Soap on the other hand, takes out grease spots and makes fruit stains worse.

There is a remedy for every stain—even the scorched spots on cotton and linen. Write our Washington Bureau today for the free booklet that tells how to remove 88 different kinds of stains. Enclose two cents in stamps to cover the return postage.

LATEST IN STYLE FOR WOMEN

Paris, Jan. 29.—The stage is the world's show window, and the smart Paris dressmakers and accordingly show the very cream of their collections at the boulevard theatres.

Stage clothes in Paris are chic but very simple—creations that can be worn by any woman. All of which is only natural if the dressmakers use the stage for publicity purposes, as they should. The couturiers must create a desire in every woman who watches the play to go and get a model that pleases her the very next day.

Mademoiselle Lanvers is wearing a charming little dress in her new play at the Theatre de l'Etoile. Just the kind of a simple little frock any woman would like to have in her wardrobe. Made of almond-green crepe de chine with a smocked skirt and trimming of brown and gold kid bands, it has that indefinable stamp upon it that makes it wanted.

Mademoiselle Baron is wearing an original tailleur created by Cheruit with a burgundy velvet jacket that slips on after the manner of a jumper-blouse and is trimmed with bands of the same tone crepe de chine. Worn over a slip of red crepe de chine, it is extremely effective.

A delightful tea gown worn by Madeline Lely and created by Martial et Armand, comes in flesh-colored gilette trimmed with gold lace and pleated crepe. It is worn under a little coat of blue and gold lame trimmed with kolinski.

Patou has created two charming frocks for Simone Dulac playing in Le Mariage de Maman" at the Theatre Antoine.

PILL-SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
brought natural relief
in a few weeks

A remarkable, convincing tribute is paid Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Aminsen, of Seattle:

"I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN it works fine. I would not be without it. I was so deathly sick of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally and is pleasant to take."

F. C. AMINSEN,

Kenneth, Seattle, Washington.
You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly. Two tablespoonsfuls daily—or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend it because it is ALL-BRAN. It does a job only ALL-BRAN can do. Part-bran products may not do any good at all.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream. Use it in cooking. Try the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Served by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

MEASLES SPREAD ALL OVER COUNTY

Hundreds of Cases Develop Including One Case of Black Measles.

Lisbon, Jan. 23.—It has been estimated by the county board of health that close to 300 cases of measles prevail in Columbiana county, and that the situation is becoming rather alarming. One case of black measles has been reported in Lisbon.

To this number of cases of measles must be added those not reported, and many in the East Liverpool and Salem districts where no record is kept by the county health department.

"Don't let the children out too soon and use every precaution to prevent the spread of the epidemic," is the warning issued by County Health Commissioner C. H. York.

Over 25 cases were reported to the county health bureau Thursday and an equal number was expected to be reported Friday.

The situation in Leetonia is declared to be rather serious.

State health authorities declare there are more cases of measles in Ohio now than at any one time during the last six years, and that the ailment has developed much earlier than in former years.

Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of black measles in Lisbon.

5 MINERS KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION

1200 Hundred Miners Had Just Descended When Blast Occurred.

West Frankfort, Ill., Jan. 29.—Five miners were killed and two others injured in a "local explosion" which occurred this morning in Mine No. 2 of the Chicago, Wilmington & Frankfort Coal Co., which is said to be "the largest mine in the world."

Twelve hundred men had just descended into the shaft to work when the explosion occurred at 7:40 a. m. today. A blaze developed in the northwest entry to the mine and a first was reported to have trapped a score of men but an announcement at the office of the company here at 11 o'clock stated that no miners were in the shaft at that hour.

An investigation was under way today of a rumor that a rule against smoking was violated when one of the men lit a cigaret in the shaft and that this presumably set off a pocket of gas.
